Denise,

Just so you are aware, the English version of the PRIDCO access letter includes an "Annex A" that was not included in the Spanish version. This Annex includes long indemnification clauses that your attorney should be sure to review. Generally, I believe that EPA does not like these "hold harmless" clauses and strikes them out. CDM Smith generally is also not terribly thrilled to see "hold harmless" language either. I just wanted to be sure you noted the differences in the files sent by PRIDCO.

Enjoy the weekend and keep warm,

Susan
